

Path of Awareness_E&C explores an individual's personal experience of space through walking and listening.

A route has been created at Elephant&Castle that offers numerous opportunities to engage with the city's dynamics. Walking itself, the sonic character of footwear, the walkability of urban environments, and their architectural and atmospheric qualities are all significant features of this sound walk.

To explore the Path independently, find a regular rhythm that works for the whole walk. For example, with clacking shoes, you can experience the interplay of self-made sound events (one's own footsteps) with the surrounding architecture.

walking the ground, emphasising the regularity of the walking rhythm, the variety of ground patterns and the acoustic environment along the Path. <https://vimeo.com/700289217>

Excerpt of walking with soundful shoes along the Path. <https://vimeo.com/711135547>

www.katrinem.de

Path of Awareness_E&C

Path of Awareness_E&C is developed for CRiSAP's Un-Earthed Festival Soundwalks. With special thanks to Peter Cusack, Lisa Hall, Cathy Lane and Anna Sherwin.

CRiSAP

London College of Communication
Elephant & Castle
London
SE1 6SB

